

Bespoke Chuppahs

The term "couture" gets bandied about a lot these days, but the company Gray Dove, owned by Chicago-based textile artist Diana Kelley, is the real deal.

Diana's spectacular handmade chuppahs and nonreligious wedding canopies are beautiful, instant-heirloom additions to a wedding ceremony. They are also ideal for creating a ceremony-site focal point.

Diana's designs take on clean, classic shapes—square, rectangle, or a long narrow band. And since each chuppah is made-to-order, the design can be completely customized with sentimental or purely aesthetic details.

Gray Dove's chuppahs are fashioned from a variety of fabrics, like linen, cotton, and silk doupioni—in fact, there are 60 different hues of silk alone to choose from, so you're sure to find a shade to match your venue's color scheme.

Best of all, you can completely personalize the embellishments. Diana can incorporate practically any memento or keepsake, from heirloom linens and jewelry, to childhood drawings and even family photographs, which can be scanned and sewn onto the fabric. Text, embroidery, handmade silk flowers, beading, and ribbon trim can also be included. From $700 (for a basic design). 773-701-0750, graydove.net

Callie Lipkin Photography

Back and Forth Music for the Aisle

Music expert Claire Coyle, artistic director of the Naperville-based Windy City Chamber Musicians, offers traditional and modern picks for two of the most important trips you'll ever take: the short walks up and down the aisle.

	The Processional	The Recessional
TRADITIONAL	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ "Bridal Chorus," by Wagner ■ Trumpet Voluntary, by Clarke/Purcell ■ Canon in D major, by Pachelbel ■ Trumpet Tune, by Purcell ■ Te Deum, by Charpentier 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ "Wedding March," by Mendelssohn ■ "Ode to Joy," by Beethoven ■ Fanfare-Rondeau, by Mouret ■ Hornpipe from Water Music, by Handel ■ "La Réjouissance" from Music for the Royal Fireworks, by Handel
MODERN	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ "Moon River," by Henry Mancini ■ "Someone to Watch Over Me," by George Gershwin ■ Canon in F, by The O'Neill Brothers ■ "Can't Help Falling in Love," by Elvis Presley ■ "What a Wonderful World," by Louis Armstrong 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ "All You Need Is Love," by The Beatles ■ "Beautiful Day," by U2 ■ "I Want to Hold Your Hand," by The Beatles ■ "When I'm Sixty-Four," by The Beatles ■ "Bésame Mucho," by Consuelo Velázquez

FIND YOUR MUSICIANS OR DJ AT BRIDES.COM/CHICAGO